

Kilometro Rosso Innovation District

Kilometro Rosso is among the major Innovation Districts in Europe, a place where research and business meet, and which acts as a Technology Transfer Agent. Today, the campus hosts 82 Resident Partners – companies, laboratories, and research centers – with its 3,000 employees and researchers.

Kilometro Rosso believes in the Open Innovation paradigm, which focuses on activating synergies among individuals with different competencies. It chooses an inclusive approach that is comprehensive of businesses, universities, geographical territory, and institutions, which work together to enhance their value as individual entities, increasing their competitiveness.

Inaugurated in 2009, Kilometro Rosso and its Resident Partners represent a landmark on the international research and technology transfer scene: 33 laboratories, 60 funded R&D projects, 750 million Euros for the overall value of R&D projects, and over 195 million Euros for R&D project funding, 940 patents filed, 76,000 delegates from all over the world, and more than 350 annual events that promote technological innovation with over 24,000 participants and more than 600,000 registrations per year.
